9 Ways for Troop Leaders to Have a Successful Year in Girl Scouts

Whether you have been a Girl Scout leader for years, have been with one troop for a little while, or are just starting, it can be tough to know where to begin. We asked Girl Scout troop leaders, parents, and volunteers what their best tips are for launching the new troop year, and their answers did not disappoint!

USE YOUR SUPPORT SYSTEM. Connect with the service unit in your area so you know when its meetings will be. You can also talk to other Girl Scout leaders, get information about what's happening locally, and build your support network. Your local Girl Scout council is a great resource! Get help, ask questions and more by calling us at 800-624-4185. Please leave a message if we are busy helping another member. We try to return all calls within the hour. Or email us at info@girlscoutshs.org.

LOG ON. The Volunteer Toolkit, the official GSUSA online source for program content and related resources and troop financial management support, is a digital planning tool that helps you set up, customize and track your troop activities and achievements. Everything in the Volunteer Toolkit is fully customizable. You can add your own troop activities and change their order with a quick drag-and-drop. You can also report on troop finances, access your girl and family roster and track your girls' achievements and attendance.

KEEP IT GIRL-LED. The best way for girls to learn leadership is through girl-led experiences. There is a fine line between girl-led success and girl-led chaos, but taking a step back to let your girls take the lead is where magic happens.

GET ORGANIZED. Some Girl Scout troop leaders find it extremely helpful to have all the information a parent may need in a folder, such as the troop meeting schedule, necessary forms, and troop guidelines. Better yet, get ahead of troop communication issues.

GET PARENTS INVOLVED. Setting clear expectations and creating a troop committee is key for a successful year. If you have a larger troop, these four essentials for managing a large troop are a must. Nervous about having your first parent meeting? Girl Scout leaders shared their top tips for running a successful parent meeting.

INTRODUCE GIRLS TO HOW THEY CAN INFLUENCE THEIR COMMUNITY. When girls are passionate about something, they can do incredible things to make positive changes in their community through community service and Take Action projects. There are also many things you can do to build community partnerships with your troop.

GO OUTDOORS. A change of scenery can be just what girls need to learn through hands-on activities. If you're looking for ideas to get outside, check out these tips for getting your Girl Scout troop outdoors this fall. Don't forget to leave no trace!

REMIND YOUR GIRL SCOUTS THAT IT'S OK TO FAIL. Girl Scouts allows girls to try new things, and sometimes they don't always go as planned. But those happy accidents can turn into the fondest memories. Learning alongside your girls can be a great way to show them that making mistakes is part of the process. Check out our tips for boosting your confidence in program areas that you might be intimidated by and how you can find local experts for Girl Scout activities.

Have fun! If it's not fun for you, it may not be fun for the girls either.

Looking for more tips for Girl Scout troop leaders? We've got your back.

Spreading Holiday Cheer

HOLIDAY PARADES

Holiday parades are right around the corner! Before you start on floats and costumes, check out Safety Activity Checkpoints (page 105) for help planning a safe and enjoyable experience for your girls.

Parades are a special event for girls, filled with fun, holiday memories, and a great way for them to raise awareness in their communities. Make sure to take pictures and submit to the council to share! Email pictures to news@girlscoutshs.org.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Girl Scouts give back all year-round, but you already knew that! There are so many ways her G.I.R.L. (Go-getter, Innovator, Risk-taker, Leader)™ energy and caring make a difference in her community—whether she and her Girl Scout friends are working on a Take Action Project after a Girl Scout Journey, working towards one of their Girl Scout Highest Awards, or giving back simply because they want to! If you're looking for how your Girl Scout troop can give back this holiday season, here are just a few of the ways Girl Scouts give back across the country:

- Organize a food drive
- Send care packages to Armed Forces or combat veterans
- Organize a toy drive
- Spread cheer by caroling at your local nursing home
- Collect or make warm clothing to donate
- Volunteer at a local food pantry or soup kitchen
- Organize a drive for children in foster care or children in your local hospital
- Find a local issue directly affecting your community.
- Lay wreaths at a veterans cemetery

WREATHS across AMERICA

Each December on National Wreaths Across America Day, our mission to Remember, Honor and Teach is carried out by coordinating wreath-laying ceremonies at more than 1,600 locations in all 50 U.S. states, at sea and abroad.

The following cemeteries located within the council are participating. Click the location for information and to register to volunteer to place wreaths.

Every Girl in a Tent Challenge

We're celebrating Girl Scouts' 100-year-plus camping legacy and we want you to take part! Challenge yourself to experience the outdoors by spending a night under the stars between October 1, 2019 – September 30, 2020.

Earn an exclusive Every Girl in a Tent Patch for any outdoor overnight stay in a non-permanent structure (think tent, hammock, or quinzhee) with your troop, family, or Girl Scout sisters.

Why It's Important

Outdoor education is one of the four areas that form the foundation of the Girl Scout Leadership Experience. Every Girl in a Tent continues a strong tradition in camping and learning outdoor principles such as Leave No Trace. Camping experiences and programs like Every Girl in a Tent afford every girl the opportunity to:

- Explore nature and learn to appreciate and protect the outdoors
- Be challenged to grow in new ways and become better problem solvers
- Unplug from screens and social media – and know that it's ok to take a break
- Develop leadership skills and become team players
- Have fun exploring and building social bonds within a safe space like Girl Scouts!

Get Your Patch and Share Your Story

After your trip, tell us about it! To earn the patch, complete the form below and share a photo. Don't forget to tag us on social media with #GSEveryGirlInATent and submit your trip details here to earn your patch.

Patch will be available for purchase starting in December.

Expired Memberships

The new Girl Scout year started on October 1. Memberships not renewed by the last day of the Girl Scout year, September 30, have expired.

Non-registered members are no longer covered by Girl Scout Activity Insurance and therefore should not be participating in activities until their registration is current.

If you need any assistance with member renewal or new member registration, check out helpful tips online, or please contact our Customer Care Team at 800-624-4185 or info@girlscoutshs.org. If we are assisting other members, please leave a message and we will promptly return your call.

Girl Scout Destinations

ROUND ONE APPLICATIONS DUES DECEMBER 1!

Every summer, Girl Scouts from across the USA travel to Costa Rica and Panama to participate in Girl Scout-exclusive programs with Outward Bound Costa Rica.

One of these is titled Scuba & Sea Turtle Adventure—an unforgettable experience featuring wildlife conservation learning, exciting outdoor activities, and even scuba diving certification! Part of Girl Scouts' Destinations program and the ultimate experience for Cadette, Senior, and Ambassador Girl Scouts, Scuba & Sea Turtle Adventure is perfect for bold and courageous lovers of animals and the outdoors.

This life-changing experience is supported in part by the Elliott Wildlife Values Project, which helps girls grow as leaders in wildlife conservation and environmental stewardship—efforts that positively affect their communities and the world.

Girls who've experienced Scuba & Sea Turtle Adventure have also shared that learning about wildlife on their Destinations trip inspired them to help others protect and conserve wildlife back home. And as noted in the Girl Scout Research Institute resource Four Ways Girl Scouts Builds Girl Leaders in the Outdoors (2019), having outdoor recreational experiences in early childhood strongly and positively influences people's environmental attitudes, values, and behaviors, with activities like hiking and camping, cultivating a sense of responsibility for nature.

Going on a Girl Scout Destinations trip is an incredible way girls can develop love and respect for the environment—as they discover new places, jump into challenges, learn a ton, and make awesome lifelong friends.

There are 40+ Destinations posted for 2020-2021. Applications are open – Round 1 applications are due December 1.

STEPS TO GET STARTED:

1. Review all Destinations
2. Contact the Destination host with trip-specific questions, or contact the council with questions about Destinations.
3. Apply! You may choose to apply to up to four Destinations. Check any Destinations page for application info.

Happy Birthday Juliette

On October 31, we celebrate the birthday of Juliette Gordon Low, a pioneering woman from Savannah, Georgia, who more than a century ago started the Girl Scout Movement. As the founder of the largest girl leadership development organization in the world, Juliette had, and through her legacy continues to have, an extraordinary influence on the lives of millions of girls across the country.

Juliette “Daisy” Gordon Low assembled 18 girls from Savannah on March 12, 1912, for a local Girl Scout meeting. She believed that all girls should be given the opportunity to develop physically, mentally, and spiritually. With the goal of bringing girls out of isolated home environments and into community service and the open air, Girl Scouts hiked, played basketball, went on camping trips, learned how to tell time by the stars, and studied first aid.

The legacy that Juliette Gordon Low left is Girl Scouts, an organization that has nearly 2 million girl members and 800,000 adult members, including volunteers who help set girls up for a lifetime of leadership and success.

Indeed, our alumnae, currently more than 59 million strong, are high achievers: all three female U.S. secretaries of state were Girl Scouts in their youth, as were the majority of women in the U.S. Congress and state legislatures nationwide, most women in business, and the first American woman to walk in space.

On her birthday, as always, we are deeply proud of Juliette Gordon Low, whose life mission was to build girls of courage, confidence, and character, and we are grateful for her enduring impact.
