Website Designer

Complete the five steps to earn your Website Designer Badge.

1. Find a worthwhile subject for your website or blog: One of the most important pieces of your website or blog is the story at the center of it. That story could be about a specific person, a topic that you are passionate about, or an important way of communicating with your community and the world.

   Make a list of five possible subjects for your website or blog and then ask a friend to review your list. See what subjects they are drawn to and why. Use their advice and feedback to help you select the subject for your website or blog.

4. Create must see content: A good website or blog should be visually appealing, contain important, relevant information, and feature new and exciting content.

Decide on the content that will appear on your website or in your blog. Who or what will be the main subject? Will you write all of your own material or will you feature guest writers? Will it be more visual based or more written based?

5. Go live-then drive!: Once you have created your website or blog and loaded it up with great content, it's time to share your creation with family and friends. Remember it's always important to get feedback so you can continue to grow and improve so be sure to ask those you share it with for their expert advice!
