

Wise use of energy brings its own reward—greener, healthier living! It also brings Girl Scout awards. Three awards are offered on this journey. You can earn one, two, or all three. Just look for the award icons:

And follow all the steps in your

on pages 106–109. You'll notice that if you do go for all three, and you put them together like so, you'll get a special energizing effect to power you through all your future Girl Scout adventures and leadership efforts.

Your path to these awards will also have you lightening your energy load. As you unplug from the energy grid, you'll plug into something bigger: nature. Go outdoors, take a walk in a park, or camp in the wilderness. Take time to see how plants, insects, and animals use and conserve energy.
