

THE JOURNEY:

What It's All About

Power isn't about people who:

- Start everything
- Tell others what to do
- Give speeches

Power is the way you act in everyday amazing ways:

- When your little brother asks you to play “horse” for the 89th time—and you do it with a smile. That’s power.
- When you notice that the new kid at school sits alone at lunch—and you do something about it. That’s power.
- When you figure out how to be part of a team. That’s power.
- When you solve problems—your own and the world’s. That’s power.

➔ POWER IS SOMETHING YOU CAN SHOW EVERY DAY.

Think
About
It!

How have you shown your power lately?
At home? At school? In your community?
